Pantry Item Of The Week: sweet or dill pickles. You can bring any other items you would like to anytime.

Remember to put your Bible questions in our Question & Answer Box in the lobby or put in any sermon ideas you may have!

Look To Jesus Today

In His eyes is the light of life...

In His voice, the word of truth...

In His feet, the paths of peace...

In His hands, the kingdom's work...

In His heart, the Father's love!

He Taught Us To Pray

When Jesus trod by the blue sea,
 How blest wert thou, O Galilee!
 While there He walked a gracious way,
 And taught us how to live and pray.

In sweet and solemn tones His prayer Still lingers on the waving air;
 Where suns may rise, or suns may set, All wants in that one prayer are met.

From lips of childish innocence,
 From weary age with failing sense,
 Mounts to heaven that wondrous prayer
 To find a loving “Father” there.

The listening stars more brightly shine,
 The morning glows with love divine,
 When human hearts, in pain or ease,
 Use these sweet words on bended knees.

Tempting Situations

Many children have found themselves in a tempting situation and have given in—maybe it was a bowl of ice cream on the counter or a candy bar on a store shelf or some money sticking out of mom’s purse. For children, these are life lessons to learn from, but it’s “kids ’stuff.”

For Christian adults, the tempting situations get bigger and the consequences for giving in become eternal. Maybe it’s having unmonitored access to your company’s finances, maybe it’s being out with some friends who are drinking, maybe it’s being alone in close quarters with a coworker, maybe it’s being triggered by someone else’s actions to lose your temper, maybe it’s finding convenient excuses to avoid fulfilling Christian responsibilities. Tempting situations come in all shapes and sizes.

The Christian’s vigilant responsibility is to “flee,” “abstain” and “resist” putting yourself or someone else in a tempting situation (Gen. 39:9-12; 1 Cor. 6:18-20; 1 Thess. 4:3; 5:22; 2 Tim. 2:22; Jas. 4:7; 1 Pet. 2:11-12).

Read the verses.

This isn’t “kids ’stuff”!

He Couldn’t Wait Any Longer

The devoted father awoke on that lazy Saturday morning surrounded by his family. His beautiful wife and young children were all lounging in the bed that morning, laughing and giggling and talking about the day ahead.

But the father was thinking. Thinking deeply. He’d been putting something off for a long time. Too long.

He picked up the phone and called the preacher where he had attended with his wife for many years. His message was short but clear, “I’ve been laying in the bed with my family this morning, and I do not want them to be somewhere in eternity where I’m not with them. I need to meet you today and get baptized right away.”

He was baptized for the forgiveness of his sins that morning and lived the life of a Christian with and before his family.

What about you? Do you have family and friends who are going to be somewhere in eternity where you are not with them?

How about making that right today?
Don’t wait any longer (Acts 22:16)!
